Dear Wendell:

Enclosed is our invoice number 240 covering an adjustment to the cumulative billings for the C program (RT-100).

As a part of our year-end closing we reviewed our costs and estimated what our final costs on the program would be when our subcontractors had submitted their final billings. This analysis indicated that our redetermination proposal would be in conformance with the price established by amendment number 13 to the contract.

The enclosed invoice adjusts the amount previously billed to a cumulative amount slightly less than that established by amendment number 13. The difference represents the estimated cost of a small amount of work not accomplished in connection with the 11th and 12th units under the contract.

I have presumed that this invoice would be honored if it covered a cumulative amount less than that established by amendment number 13. If this presumption is incorrect and you will be unable to process the invoice unless it exactly agrees with amendment number 13, please return the invoice, and we will change the invoice to agree with the contract, realizing that any extra amount received would be returnable at completion of redetermination negotiations.

Very truly yours,

Enc.
